STUDENT SATISFACTION SURVEY (SSS)
(Academic year 2022-23)

Student Satisfaction Survey (sss) that results from evaluation of student's experience with the facilities and support they received in the college is very important. It is valid and reliable tool to understand the key areas for further developments. Thus it allows understanding the resources for areas that require greater attentions. Thus it is a direct and useful indicator of the effectiveness of teaching learning in the college. The college encourages the students to take active participation in SSS.

One of the most important factors that affect students directly is the teaching quality factor, which includes curriculum, teaching techniques and methodologies, as well as testing methods. In our survey, we should ask your students about their opinion on what and how they are taught, and whether that knowledge is being effectively and fairly tested.

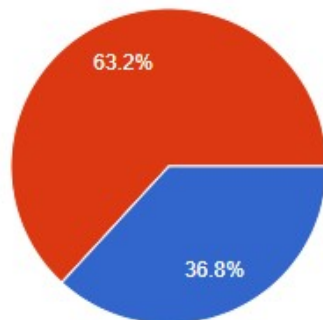

The format of the questionnaire is prepared by The IQAC.as per the suggestions and a guideline of the NAAC.The format contains 21 questions on five points Lickert's scale; including few questions regarding personal information. The questionnaire communicated to the students as a "Google form "through whatsapp and telegram groups.

We received 380 responses approximately, 25% students responded and recorded their responses. Among the responses, The proportion of girls are three time higher than that of boys, whereas the science and commerce Faculty Students are seen to be more aware regarding survey as compared to other facilities. The majority of the students regarding the teaching, communication of teachers, extents of syllabus covered, and preparation of teachers for the classes are reported as "excellent" or "satisfactory". Approximately 88% of students feel that overall teaching-learning process is very good in our college.

The question wise Pie-charts obtained from the summary of Google form responses are self-explanatory .These Pie-charts given below.
